MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL

Lemon Grove Review

VOL. 7; NO. 18 — LEMON GROVE, CALIFORNIA DECEMBER 23, 1954 — 10c Per Copy

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Well, Red, the people will have an opportunity on January 10, to decide on the incorporation question although the opposition made all of the technical objections they could think of to prevent the issue from reaching a vote.

Contrary to some of the newspaper reports the Lemon Grove Vista area was not excluded from the proposed boundaries of the city.

The board of supervisors is required by law to make an estimate of the population of the proposed city and they requested information from the Registrar of Voters as to the population and the registrar's office used a formula for estimating the population which is entirely different from the formula used by other government agencies. The formula used was the number of registered voters at the last general election multiplied by two.

On the other hand the state law provides that in allocating both gasoline tax money, and motor vehicle license fees, which are allocated to cities upon a population basis, the population of a newly incorporated city shall be determined by multiplying the number of registered voters at the last general election by three, which would place the population of the city, after exclusions, at 19,098. There were 6,366 registered voters at the last general election. In accordance with the above the city would receive all taxes from the state which are allocated upon a population of 19,098 instead of the estimate of the Registrar of Voters.

The assessed valuation of property in Lemon Grove increased more than enough last year to offset any loss by way of exclusions and will probably increase more next year because the majority of the property taken for the freeway was removed from the tax rolls last year, which actually reduced the gain last year.

Red talks about policemen again in his last letter but I believe there are many parents in Lemon Grove who would appreciate having them as guards at the main intersections when the children are either going to school or returning home.

I am familiar with the election at Downey and it was a very good example of unclean politics on the part of the opposition to incorporate. They pubilshed information which they knew to be false and untrue and spent thousands of dollars in order to defeat incorporation. So far the controversy in Lemon Grove has been clean and I hope it remains that way but it wouldn't surprise me if the opposition didn't come out at the last moment with false information and propaganda.

The members of the City Council will be selected by a vote of the people and I hope that the successful candidates will do their best to make a success of Lemon Grove as a city and not try to hamstring the administration.

It is my belief that if we don't incorporate now it will only be a matter of time before it will be necessary for us to annex either to La Mesa or San Diego.

Maybe we will start the New Year out right by incorporating.

Frank Armstrong

Dear Mr. Editor:

As the year draws to a close and the Yuletide spirit inspires each of us to grow in his ability to see the truth, we must all recognize the need for complete unity in our community.

May each of us feel with the deeper insight, which comes from personal experience, that he is a unique, vital, and responsible unit in God's Plan for all men to enjoy freedom, peace and happiness.

May each of us move ahead with humility, and yet with assurance; with realism, and yet with hope; with selflessness and yet with the knowledge that each one of our lives will be enriched with an abundance that will spread throughout the community.

And, in keeping with the spirit and teachings of Jesus, may each of us think more clearly, work more effectively, and dedicate our minds, hearts, and talents more completely as together we seek to achieve a closely knit unity in our own wonderful community.

Your very truly,
Harry Griffen
Mt. Helix Associates, Inc.

Dear Editor:

How many of these half-truths and lies, accusations and insinuations should we be expected to take from Red O'Malley, his ghost writers and followers?

In their malicious insinuations they constantly refer to a nebulous clique of high-binders and unscrupulous men and women who are trying to cheat the people of Lemon Grove out of their birthright.

Just who are the members of this so-called clique? Among them are six of your ministers (including both Roman Catholic and Protestant), your respected Judge, your Superintendent and the other seven administrators of the Public Schools, all four of your school board members residing in the proposed city, your three fire commissioners and the members of the fire department, your Postmaster, you the Editor of our only locally printed newspaper, most of the business and professional people who have in the past few years worked for the good of the community and a host of other tax-paying citizens of Lemon Grove.

Americans have always been noted for their sense of fair play. I am herewith appealing to this sense of fair play in the people of Lemon Grove. Whether they are at present for or against incorporation I appeal to them not to impugn the integrity of the people they have chosen or elected to be the leaders of their community.

It is a rather bitter pill to swallow to have spent the tremendous amount of hours, energy and money working for what we are convinced will be for the good of our community and then to have people follow the lead of "rumor-mongers" in slapping us in the face as a reward.

By the way, if Red O'Malley is so interested in Lemon Grove where has he been in the past six and one half years? As you well know there has scarcely been a community project that I have not cooperated with since I came to Lemon Grove in 1948. I have never seen him among the volunteer workers of Lemon Grove.

Yours for an incorporated and forward moving Lemon Grove,
Dan Apra, pastor

The Dimmer VIEW

by Max Goodwin

When Clint McKinnon decided to close the Los Angeles News last week, the announcement came at a time when the 450 effected employees had their minds on a more happy Christmas holiday time.

That McKinnon had to fold his sheet at the top of the Yule season must have come as a terrific shock to these people, as it would to you if your family breadwinner had come home last week and announced that "we're unemployed."

I feel that I might have utilized this space for a happier story, maybe one of holiday giving and receiving and end it with "All's right with the world" but the spectre of unhappy and unemployed people bothers me.

It bothers me all the more because I, and several hundred San Diegans suffered the same fate when the San Diego Daily Journal was sold out of existence several years ago. I had returned from a two week's vacation the same day I picked up a Sunday edition of the San Diego Union and read the fate of myself and fellow newspapermen on the front page of the paper. To admit that I didn't have an inkling that the paper was about to suspend publication is an admission of stupidity, I suppose, but, on the other hand, the management would not publicize such a move in advance for obvious reasons.

Throwing so many competent employees on a restricted market at one time is naturally going to make it a long time before they can be absorbed. Practically none of them will have gainful employment for Christmas . . . and that isn't the publisher's fault. The various news stories circulated within the publishing trade indicated that he struggled to hold the thing together for many months.

An ironic note of the affair is McKinnon's statement that the demands made by the union, the Newspaper Guild, was a factor in the decision. Such was the case of the Journal. John Kennedy couldn't see a closing of the gap between the outgo and the income although revenue was

Are You Eligible To Vote in the Jan. 10 Election?

Only residents registered within the boundaries of the proposed city of Lemon Grove will be eligible to vote in the January 10 election, according to George Wren, deputy registrar of voters.

It is not necessary for the voter to be a property owner. Neither will the signing of the petition, or lack of it, have any bearing on the voter's rights.

Any resident who did not vote in the primary nor November 2 general election will not be eligible to vote unless they registered 54 days ahead of the coming election.

Four in Family Hurt in Freeway Accident

Misfortune continued to pursue the family of Lloyd Bunner who earlier this year operated the Sugar Plum Cafe in the Grove Theatre Building.

Four members of his family were seriously injured Friday when their auto was involved in a collision with a transit-mix truck on Alvarado Freeway and 70th St.

Hurt were Mrs. Cecil Bunner, 19, multiple fractures of her legs and lower trunk; her husband, Cecil, 20, face cuts; their son, 18 months, scalp cuts, Joanne, 18, a sister of the injured man suffered internal injuries and injuries about the head.

Earlier this year Mrs. Lloyd Bunner tripped and fell in her home, breaking her hip. She was hospitalized several months as a result.

The victims were taken to La Mesa Community Hospital. The family resides at 3690 Grove St.

The Mason LINE

It seems to be the fashion these days in radio, TV and newspapers to come up occasionally with guest stars. So not to be outdone, we present herewith Clayton Mosher, former San Diego resident who takes time off to tell of life in the exotic foreign colony of Ajijic, Mexico.

Ajijic is a derivative from the Tarassan language meaning "Where the princess comes to the seven waterfalls." Ajijic is pronounced (ah-he-heek) and is a fishing village on the western end of Lake Chapala, Mexico's largest lake, 35 miles south of Guadalajara, the second largest city in Mexico.

This place, writes Clayton, where I spend "mucho tiempo" you can't find on most maps. With a native population of 2500 plus a small American colony of 50 year-round residents Ajijic has become an artist colony, an out of the way spot for painters, writers, musicians and drinkers taking advantage of the low prices and a "clima"—climate that is every bit as good as we have here in San Diego.

This bargain paradise has been the mecca for such artists as Tennessee Williams, part of his "Street Car Named Desire" finished in this area, Robert Pann Warren who wrote "All the King's Men," Oakley Hall "The Corpus of Joe Bailey," as well as Ken Mason, Clay Putnam, Butch Marsh, Vance Bourjayle and Bob Bassing, all of magazine, pocketbook or TV fame.

To the Americans who have been living along the lake it has been a shoe-string paradise for those who want to live well, yet inexpensively. The price of coffee is 40c a pound. Rents are from five to twenty dollars a month. Meat, any cut, is 35c a pound. Wages for a cook run under 12 dollars a month. You can get a gardener the whole day for 40c. If you want to add a fireplace to your house, you can do it for 12 dollars.

If you take a long lease on a house, with all improvements it will cost you about 500 dollars. You don't even have to pay for fish, vegetables and fruit. Water, the tourist bugaboo, is not a "problema" here. A supply is always forthcoming from the mountains behind the village, piped to the plaza where women fill pottery jars and bring them to the garden doors for a penny.

If you are thinking of coming to Ajijic to live or to stay, remember your greatest enemy will be leisure, what to do with all that slow-moving manana-like time. Those who make the adjustment find it easy to sit in the sun, read, think, eat, sleep and watch the 17th century exist beside the 20th century.

A Christmas Carol

Christ, our Saviour, on this day, first came upon this earth;
Its dedicated Christmas Day, in memory of his birth,
God, the Father, gave us his one begotten son.
'Twas in a lowly manger, His noble life begun.
A brilliant star shone from afar, to light the eastern sky;
And wise men followed in its path, to learn the reason why.
Who was this child? From whence he came? And why this great furor?
How came this halo o'er his brow, to mystify them more?
Then Joseph soon enlightened them, and presents did they bring,
To lay at the feet of Jesus Christ, their new born King.

In early life His wisdom and His miracles astounded.
His blessed youth, His gospel truth, soon had him quite surrounded
With all His good disciples. It was just as God intended
When He placed His Son on earth that truth should be defended;
Curing lepers, healing cripples, bringing dead to life;
His magic touch a blessing, in a world so filled with strife.
Then hatred formed among the Jews, and jealousies exist.
For gold did Judis then betray our Savior with a kiss.
His enemies then stoned Him, and shouldered Him a cross;
While on His brow a crown of thorns by treacherous hands was forced.

They scourged Him on to Calvary, where, nailed upon the cross,
His life blood to this world He gave, that we should not be lost.
His hands were pierced with cruel nails, but dying words forgave.
Thieves who shared His fate that day, took pardon to their grave.
They laid His body in the tomb, a silent bleeding form,
But Jesus in His holiness, arose on Easter morn.
This sacrifice of life was made that you and I might live,
Though sins may be as scarlet, He is ready to forgive;
So at Christmas when you celebrate bestowing gifts of love,
Just give your heart to Jesus, He is waiting up above.
And Christmas is His birthday: then let your hearts uplift.
And while you're giving presents, give Him a Birthday Gift.

I do in no way take complete credit for the above. This carol was written by my departed brother and myself and was published in Pentecost on December 5, 1923.

Letters to Santa Claus— What Lemon Grove Youngsters Want This Year

Christmas means different things to different persons. To most of us it means peace on earth, good will toward men. It also is spiritually important, and socially significant.

Those to whom Christmas means the most, in ratio to other things within their ken, are children. Many of them indicate their feelings by letters.

Letters to Santa Claus sometimes go in strange directions before Santa fills the requests of the writer.

We have letters from Lemon Grove children, who have been particularly good, that were given to this newspaper by Santa's helpers. He asked us to print them to show other good little boys and girls the accepted form for Santa's letters.

Here are a few which were mailed in a local post office and addressed to Santa Claus at the North Pole:

LITTLE MARIE LOU

Dear Editor:

Enclosed is a little Christmas story. If you have enough space to print it and if it appeals to you, go ahead with it. There it is.

Wishing you a merry Christmas and a healthful and prosperous New Year, I remain
Very truly yours
Dr. Frank Weege, D. C.

Once again the celebration of the birth of Christ was upon the homes of most of the civilized peoples of the world. The different families, in their own ways, made preparations to solemnly commemorate the event of the holy evening. The men engaged with the so necessary last minute chores; the women attended to their roasts and cakes the pleasant aroma therefrom interminglging with the atmosphere in every room of the houses. The children, in order to keep their searching eyes away from seeing too much and too early, were sent away to play their various out-of-door games. Everyone's heart was filled with happiness and contentment, everyone was rejoicing, and old and young, eagerly, awaited the festivities of the evening.

Only in the cold and sparsely furnished living room of little Marie Lou hovered the spirit of solitude. She was the seven year old daughter of a widowed mother who made her living by taking in washing and ironing for some of the more fortunate people in the neighborhood. This last week was especially exertive for the mother and she was still on the go to make her last deliveries.

While awaiting her return Marie Lou had placed a chair in front of the window from which she observed the big snow flakes falling silently to the ground. She had pressed her little nose against the cold window pane and saw, here and there, the burning lights of some Christmas trees in other homes. Some days ago, with an unsteady had, she had written a letter to Santa Claus asking him to bring her a tree and some other things which little girls so much enjoy but, somehow, the letter must have gotten lost.

Her young bosom let out a deep sigh and a few tears rolled down her palish cheeks as she mumured to herself: "Why doesn't Santa Claus come to me?"

A short while later her mother arrived from her last errand. She at once noticed that Marie Lou had been crying and she knew the reason for it too. In friendly words she told the child not to pity herself too much and not to

Date Deadline Near For Water Board Nominations

Saturday, January 8, is the final day for filing nominating papers with the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District for aspirants to the board of directors, according to Byron Miller, district manager.

Election will be held in February for a director from the Lemon Grove Division. Harry Griffen, present director, has served for the past four years and has indicated his intention to run again.

The position pays $20 per meeting and regular meetings are held weekly. The same fee is paid for special meetings which are held occasionally. A like amount is paid for "special other work" which occurs even less frequently.

Nomination papers may be acquired from Irrigation District offices in La Mesa.

NO TRASH PICKUP

There will be no garbage or trash pick-up Saturday, December 25, advised Frank Thomas, who operates the disposal service in this area.

Otherwise, pick-up dates remain the same.

Pal's Cafe Robbed— Suspect Arrested

A crime wave sky-rocketed into oblivion last week in Lemon Grove when an Encanto man, charged with robbery, proved to the police that you can't even trust a suspect.

Hal Johnson, special police officer for Lemon Grove businessmen apprehended James William Dukes, 6847 Jamacha Rd., as he hurried out of Pal's Cafe, 3521 Imperial Ave. Reason for Johnson's suspicions was that it was after 3 a.m. and the cafe had been closed for more than an hour.

The handle to a safe and $105 in change and currency, found in Duke's pockets, contributed to Johnson's suspicions. An accomplice, in an auto in the rear of the cafe attempting to load the cafe's safe in the car, made a getaway.

Sheriff's men said that Dukes had a criminal record of five arrests so far this year and had been imprisoned in Terre Haute, San Quentin and had worked on the California Road Camp.

When officers shook down Dukes and found the $105 contents of the cafe's cash register, they placed the cash on the bar, stood Dukes near it and took pictures for the official record. Later, when $25 of the cash was missing, they frisked Dukes again, and found he had that amount of money wadded in his handcuffed fist, thus shaking whatever confidence the law had in Mr. Dukes.

Just for the record, Dukes was booked on a petty theft charge a week ago when he was apprehended in a Spring Valley home last week.

HUMOROUS FLOAT PLANNED FOR 'ROSES' PARADE

The fishing community of San Pedro is cooking up its Rose Parade float entry, "Holy Mackerel," which may sound like a strange kettle of fish.

Actually, the famed expression is in keeping with the 1955 Tournament of Roses theme, "Familiar Sayings in Flowers," and will lend one of the elements of humor to be seen in the parade New Year's Day.

"There will be more humorous floats in the 1955 pageant than ever before," Walter Hoefflin, Jr., chairman of the Parade Entry Committee, reported.

Among the float titles submitted by entrants are "Bee in Her Bonnet," by Huntington Park; "Every Dog Has His Day," Market Basket; "See You in the Funnies," National Orange Show; and "Who's Next," by the California Exchange Clubs.

"Many of the other colorfully decorated floats will tickle one's funny bone," Hoefflin predicted, "which indicates that the 1955 pageant is again on its way towards the annual objective of surpassing any previous parade."

!THE SHOW'S THE THING!

Two exciting films, "The Broken Lance" and "The Raid" are making their first appearance in Lemon Grove tonight through Saturday at the Grove theater! "Broken Lance" is a 20th Century-Fox story that tells the story of a son's devotion to a hard-boiled rancher father who flouts the law and allows his son to take the rap. It stars Spencer Tracy, Richard Widmark, Robert Wagner, Jean Peters and Kathy Jurado, and is in color! "The Raid," suspenseful picturization of a little-known incident during the Civil War, is satisfactory entertainment for action fans. It stars Van Heflin and is based on an actual suspenseful incident of the war between the states. The screenplay is based upon the raid of a small Vermont town in 1864 by a band of Confederate soldiers crossing the border from Canada. Taken from Herbert Ravenal Sass' true story, "Affair at St. Albans," the episode has been realistically developed into a tense technicolor production. Heflin enacts the role of a Confederate major who leads the escape of seven rebel officers from a Union prison in northern New York. Fine support is given Heflin all down the line. The cast is headed by Anne Bancroft, a young war widow at whose boarding house Heflin takes a room; Richard Boone as a one-armed Union veteran; and Lee Marvin, a Southern officer whose fiery temper nearly wrecks the proposed raid and as a consequence is shot down by, guess who?

Two more exciting films will play at the Grove theater on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. They are "Prince Valiant" and "Miss Robin Cruso."

Seen on the marquee of the Grove theater last Wednesday: "Rouge Cop," instead of "Rogue Cop."

Don't forget to stop in and see Smokey Rogers and his outfit every Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. . . . Metro's "Bhowani Junction" is being filmed in Pakistan. . . . 20th Century signed Ray Anthony for the college sequences in "Daddy Long Legs." . . . Jack Palance will play the comedy-lead in "The Director."—B. T.

CHURCH CHOIR GIVES IMPRESSIVE PERFORMANCE

Friday evening the 24th, we will hold our annual candlelight service in the Sanctuary of the church at 7:30 p.m. This impressive and sacred service will put everyone in just the right mood for "Keeping Christmas," which is the topic of Dr. Jones' sermon for Sunday, December 26.

There is the usual Boy Scout Troop 171, on Tuesday evening, Girl Scouts on Wednesday afternoon, and the Brownies on Thursday afternoon.

ROY CLOSE FAMILY HOME FOR HOLIDAY

The Roy Closes are having their family with them for Christmas gifts and dinner. Included are: Florence and Rickey McAlexander and sons Jimmy and Donny, Jean and Bob Shaw and sons Billy and Ronney, Carroll and Richard Anderson.

They help us bring you more and better telephone service at low cost. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Save time—check doubtful numbers before you call

Lots of times—especially when people are in a hurry to talk to someone—it's a temptation to call a telephone number they're not quite sure of. But studies we've made show that a caller often winds up getting the wrong party in cases like this. For memory can play strange tricks with telephone numbers. And, of course, this means inconvenience and wasted time. That's why we suggest you look up numbers in your directory whenever you're in doubt about them. You'll complete your calls faster and save yourself a good deal of trouble in the long run.

Here's hoping you enjoy a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

As another year draws to a close, we hope we've been able to bring you the kind of telephone service during 1954 that you want and like—fast, dependable, courteous. And we intend to do all we can to make it even better during 1955. Meanwhile, all of us here at Pacific Telephone join in wishing you and your's the best of everything during the Holiday Season. Pacific Telephone.

We wish you contentment and happiness
this Christmas season.

Aqueduct Break Endangers Area's Water Supply

A crack in the 48 inch steel pipe, one of two barrels which carries water to Lemon Grove and other parts of San Diego County, was held responsible for the failure of one barrel earlier this month.

Some parts of the area's irrigation district's supply was immediately effected. Lemon Grove's supply of water was not interrupted, although discoloration and a woody odor persisted for several days.

Cause of the crack is unknown and repairs are under way. The barrel was placed in service in October.

First notice of the break came to the San Diego County Water Authority operations station at Escondido, from Wm. Kopple of the Irrigation District's pumping station at Lakeside. Discovery that no water was flowing through the aqueduct came when a routine meter reading was made the next morning. Kopple called the Escondido station, which up to then had no notice of the break.

This Irrigation District takes its Colorado River water direct from the aqueduct at Slaughterhouse Canyon, M. J. Shelton, chief engineer of the district explained. Thus when the flow of water through the aqueduct stopped, water ceased flowing through the district's main transmission line.

Water users in the south and east parts of El Cajon Valley who take their water direct from that line were soon out of water. Other customers, whose supplies come from local reservoirs and storage tanks within the district, were not immediately affected.

When the flow of Colorado River water failed, the district was then forced to turn to its water stored in El Capitan Reservoir, east of Lakeside, and the switch-over to this source of supply was made .

The water supply at El Capitan being at a low point, the quality of water which flowed into the lines was below that of Colorado River water. The water has some odor and appears "dirty," although entirely sanitary, L. L. Flor, district sanitary engineer said. The discoloration was increased by the fact that a change in water source going into the system causes pipe line deposits to detach themselves and go into the water, Shelton said.

Immediate effect of this was minimized by dumping all of the El Capitan water into Grosmont reservoir, and at the same time temporarily cutting that reservoir out of the system. This gave the new water an opportunity to settle out before it went into the water mains. However, this water will be getting into the mains, mixed with Colorado River water, during the next few days and may result in noticeable discoloration throughout the district, Flor said.

By Monday morning, the County Water Authority had blocked off the section of the second barrel in which the break occurred, and the first barrel was returned to service. The authority estimates water loss from the break at 150 acre feet.

The nature of the irrigation district's "storage" at San Vicente Reservoir, where the San Diego aqueduct terminates, was explained by Shelton: this is a "bookkeeping" storage in the reservoir, which is owned by the City of San Diego. The district has no direct or adequate physical connection to the reservoir. When it wishes to draw upon its stored water, it increases its withdrawal from the aqueduct, and decreases the amount of water going into the reservoir. This, however, gives no effective storage on which it can draw in event of failure of the aqueduct.

Need for storage reservoir within the district is emphasized by this interruption of service from the 280 mile line which brings water from the Colorado River to the district. Also involved in this transport of water are four pumping stations, lifting the water a total of 1600 feet.

Only storage on which the district can draw in event of failure of the aqueduct is at El Capitan and Cuyamaca reservoirs. Cuyamaca is completely dry at the present time. Water can also be taken from the El Monte basin by pumping.

Storage in Grossmont and various other reservoirs of the district is operating storage, and is sufficient to supply needs of the district for only a few days, depending on the season and demands.

Shelton emphasized the need of such storage in a report to the board of directors of the irrigation district only two weeks ago, at which time the Metropolitan Water District had announced a lower price on Colorado water deliveries during the "off season" winter months. This was done to encourage agencies to take water during the off-season months to use during high demand periods.

English Daisies Will Brighten L. G. Garden During Winter Rain and Cold

Most flowers that bloom during the rainy season tend to become weather-beaten and bedraggled with the winter winds and rain. Luckily there are a few flowers that take this type of treatment and still present a bright, cheerful appearance due to their low stocky growth that withstands the wind and their continuous flood of new blooms that replace the older ones that have suffered from the effects of the bad weather. Such plants as primrose, pansy, viola, calendula, primula and English daisy fit into this grouping. These are plants that are adapted to Lemon Grove cold weather growing conditions and that withstand much wind and rain and still present a good show of color.

Of these plants the English Daisy is comparatively unknown. Considering its long season of bloom when garden color is at a premium and the large soft blobs of color that cover the dwarf plants, it is an item that is certainly deserving of better acquaintance in the garden. While its dwarf habit of growth limits its use somewhat, it can be used for massed planting to good effect. Also, it serves nicely as a shallow rooted bulb-cover. Generally it is used for border planting and it works very well for this purpose. While the flowers are seldom used for cutting, they will serve well for use in low vases or bowls. Few blooms will surpass the fluffy softness that is found in the flowers of the English Daisy. As a cut flower it will hold up for three to four days and then shatters. Individual plants of English Daisy can be potted and used as a small house plant for short periods of time. The blooms weaken and bleach out in a period of a week but can be revived with a few days exposure in the open again.

Few pests bother the English Daisy, but a watchful eye must be kept for aphids, as they seem to love to feed upon this particular plant. Generally they concentrate on the crown of the plant and under the leaves and will practically kill off a planting if they are not kept under control. Occasionally mealy bug and red spiders will attack them as the weather warms up. In this case they should be sprayed with an oil spray at summer strength or with one of the recommended miticides.

English Daisies are light feeders. They prefer a loose sandy soil and should be planted with provision for good drainage or they tend to develop root rot. Little cultivation is necessary. Indeed, a scratching of the soil surface to keep down the weeds should be adequate. During the cool weather, English Daisies will thrive in open sun, but they prefer a cooler location as the weather warms. As they will live over and can be divided, it is wise to arrange to replant them into a summer location that will offer them cooler growing conditions.

Due to their long season of bloom, English Daisies can be counted on as a border planting for a fall planting as well as a spring planting of the main bed. This will give a saving in time and labor as well as a saving in plant material. Care should be taken to use colors that will blend with the white, red and rose shades of the English Daisies. A particularly fetching combination with the English Daisy is to step up the planting with Forget-me-not and then yellow Calendula in the main bed. For a ribbon border along a lawn or a narrow walk effective use is made of the English Daisy double-rowed with Dwarf Dusty Miller.

growing steadily. The more the publication took in, the more were the demands made by the employees. It was an obviously hopeless situation.

Because McKinnon is notoriously pro-labor, it is all the sadder that a movement McKinnon championed was the contributing cause to his property's demise.

McKinnon, prior to taking over the ailing News, had started the Daily Journal and built it into a newsy, hard hitting and honest newspaper. It was such after Kennedy took it over but the continuing demands made by its employees dictated its death.

There obviously can be no moral here, because to make one would be to ask for cheap labor . . . and the day when cheap labor is asked for or desired is long past.

There should be a point to this piece, however, and I'll make it a Christmas wish. I wish that Santa would make each publisher so solvent that he could meet every request of his employees, and still have a little left over to meet his own obligations.

I'll leave the light on the porch, Santa!

Water Tax Payments Due, Says District Assessor

One of the most important items which every home owner should have at Christmas time is a tax receipt for payment of the first half of 1954-55 taxes of the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation district, James L. Squire, district tax collector, said yesterday.

The first half of the Irrigation District taxes became due on November 1, and are delinquent after 6 p.m., Monday, December 27.

If the taxes have not been paid by that time, a penalty is automatic, as specified by the state laws governing irrigation districts, Squire said.

MARIE LOU

be envious of the more favored children. Marie Louis wasn't envious, not at all, but she felt as though a tight band had encircled her slender throat which made her swallowing difficult.

After the two had their plain supper the mother tucked her child into the cold bed whereupon she herself prepared for a well earned rest. Before she could fall asleep she heard the light sobbing of the girl beside her. "Go to sleep, my darling," she said softly, "next year Santa Claus will come to you too." Moments later the room was quiet except for the steady 'tic-tac' coming from the old wall clock. At midnight 12 sonorous tones came from the ancient timepiece. No sooner had the last tone rung out when great activity developed in Marie Lou's living room. A large, decorated Christmas tree was brought in and placed on the table. Thereunder busy hands arranged shoes and slippers, stockings and warm underwear, dolls and other toys, apples, oranges, nuts, candy and cookies and many other things young hearts so immensely admire. After everything had been orderly placed someone turned on the gift record player and the ever so beautiful chorale, reproduced from children's voices, rang out through the room:

"Silent night! Holy night!
All is calm, all is bright
'Round yon Virgin Mother and Child!
Holy Infant so tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace!
Sleep in heavenly peace!

Marie Lou awakened; sleepy-eyed, she saw the burning lights on the Christmas tree in the next room. "Mother, mother," she shrieked out loud. "Look, look, Santa Claus has been here." Bare-footed she ran toward the tree and there she saw all those wonderful presents, many of them she had not even asked for. Her great excitement and happiness was so profound that she could not prevent it from tears moistening her eyes. Her mother, still in a quandary as to how this all happened, took the little girl into her arms and kissed her heartily. "See, my dear," she said mildly, "this all came upon you because you weren't envious of other children."

So, Marie Lou's letter to Santa Claus reached its destination after all. But how? Well, a kind-hearted social worker while doing her gallant work in the neighborhood, found the letter on the sidewalk. Through the partly opened window the wind must have blown it away from the place where Marie Lou had laid it. After reading the scrawly lines the dear lady got in contact with one of the benevolent organizations in the city which saw to it that the poor little child was not forgotten at Christmas. It paid handsomely for Marie Lou not to be envious of other children.

Polio Drive Gets Off To Early, But Meager Start

The March of Dimes got off to a weak but positive start in Lemon Grove this week when Rev. Dan Apra of the First Congregational Church deposited one dime with Henry Goldy who has been named chairman of the Lemon Grove Polio Drive.

"I want to go on record as having made an early contribution," Mr. Apra said, "but I also want to be on record as not having given so much that my congregation may wonder what's happening to the benevolence fund." Judge Luther Hussey, who was witness to the activities, also asked that a dime be written up for him in testimony that as far as the judiciary and the clergy are concerned the drive is officially under way.

In addition Goldy added to his meager coffer by collecting a 1954 iron lung filled with silver coins from Ralph Rella's Shoe Store and C. P. Appliances. Both of these were overlooked during last year's campaign.

Last year $5000.00 was raised in Lemon Grove for the March of Dimes. Several stunts and events have been planned by Goldy to equal or beat that total in 1955, he said.

'Drive and Drink and Go to Jail' Says Highway Patrol Chief

"Any drunk driver found in Lemon Grove will go to jail!"

This was the flat declaration of Highway Patrol Captain Harry Clodfelter today when discussing holiday traffic control problems in San Diego County.

Capt. Clodfelter explained that year after year the greatest problem in holiday traffic enforcement is created by those drivers who insist on driving after drinking.

"It has been scientifically proven that two highballs or two bottles of beer can dull reactions, disturb vision and slow reflexes enough to create traffic accident hazards.

"The answer is simple," the captain pointed out, "if you drive, don't drink; and if you drink, don't drive."

In an all out effort to maintain safe highways through the holidays Captain Clodfelter announced that every available traffic officer and every available piece of equipment will be on duty during holiday traffic peaks.

OPTOMETRISTS HONOR REPRESENTATIVES IN LEMON GROVE

LEMON GROVE—A plaque for "outstanding service in the legislature to the professions" hangs on Sen. Fred H. Kraft's office wall today.

The citation was presented to

him Monday by the San Diego County Optometric society at a luncheon meeting at Michael's in Lemon Grove, with Dr. Gertrude Ryder, of El Cajon, president, presiding. Dr. Calvin Nicholl, of Lemon Grove, who is secretary-elect, took a prominent part in the arrangements for the meeting.

Dr. Bernard Schemmer, of National City, president-elect, and legislative chairman, made the presentation, and said, in part:

"In your capacity as a long-time member of the important business and professions committee of the senate, you, sir, have served well the people, and the professions of this state. At times, the pressure has been terrific, but you have never wavered in your duty."

The veteran senator admitted that it was the first time in his 12 years in the legislature that he had received such a plaque. He added that it had fallen his lot to handle about 95% of all bills affecting the professions because he, in private life, is a member of one of them. He said that California has an outstanding record regarding laws regulating the work of the healing arts.

Other legislators who spoke briefly included: Assemblyman Frank Luckel, Jack Shrade, and Sheridan Hegland.

FIELD TRIP GIVEN TO GROVE SCHOOL CHILDREN

Eight boys and girls from the fourth grades at Golden Avenue School visited a Tijuana School recently. They reported a very interesting day and experienced the graciousness of the Mexican children.

Mrs. Palermo's fourth grade was given a lecture and tour through Ramona's Marriage Place and Father Serra's Mission at Presidio Park.

This study was in connection with their work on Early California and Mexico.

Tuberculosis can be cured, but it is easiest to cure when discovered early and treatment begun at once. BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS.

Tuberculosis kills more people than all other contagious diseases combined. It stands sixth among all causes of death in the United States. BUY AND USE CHRISTMAS SEALS.

Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw, Stanford Medical School—"We should not use the word 'cured' in connection with tuberculosis — but frankly I think we are getting pretty close to it."

Max Conrad, S. F. Atlantic flyer—"I've done something more dangerous than flying the Atlantic. I bought my wife a suit in Paris and I had to just guess at her measurements."

A HOUSE IS NOT A HOME!

It costs no more to build or remodel with ingenuity. Usually, the cost is lower than some of the pedestrian work you've seen.

If you want a home. . . your home . . . tailored to you, start first with a reputable home draftsman.

Throwin' The Bull

By Bob Turnbull

It's a Joke, Son! . . . Infatuated Gob: A she-sick sailor!

—o—

Line-Up . . . Here are my predictions for the San Diego Junior College's varsity football squad for the fall season of '55, providing they all return, and that is far from assured by past jaycee history. Left end, Dallas Evans (6 feet, 1 inch, 188 pounds); left tackle, Don Dickerson (6 feet, 1 inch, 200 pounds); left guard, Dominic Russo (5 feet 7 inches, 176); center, Bob Yamada (5 feet 9 inches, 178); right guard, Frank Leinsteiner (5 feet 10 inches, 174); right tackle, Orrin Collier (6 feet 2 inches, 200); right end, Laura Saraspe (6 feet 2 inches, 198); quarterback, Bill Adams, 6 feet, 188); left half, Garnet "Poncho" Adams, 5 feet 4 inches, 151); right half, Bob Neely (6 feet, 2 inches, 178); and fullback, Joe Barrington (6 feet 1 inch, 188). A good, tough, fast squad that should fare out very well!

Personals . . . To CAK: Think with your head, not your heart! To JA: We can tell that you're married — you're wearing last year's suit! To DS: There is every indication that a small percentage of blood is getting into your alcohol system! To JS: You should never boast of your family tree if you come from the shady side!

—o—

Fall Fads . . . The latest in hair-cuts for the middleage-spread group is a crew cut wig. . . . Young, sweet things in the middle east wear knots in their 60-inch Coro pearl rope to tell why she can't accept an invitation for Friday night. If she has two weekend dates already, she ties a knot in her pearls for each one. Necklace knots, now that everybody's wearing those 60-inch ropes, are the new popularity gauge. . . . The latest saying (presently being worn out) is "later."

—o—

Mulligan's Mob . . . blew up a storm two Tuesday eves back and was viewed by a cozy, appreciative audience all nestled comfortably in seats fastened to the floor of the auditorium belonging to Hoover High School. The modern music, featuring Gerry Mulligan, Zoot Sims, and other all-stars, varied from an impromptu quartet to a sheet-reading sextet! Naturally, Helix (students and alumni) outnumbered all the other schools in this world premiere of Mr. Mulligan, who was brought to San Diego by "Mr. Music," Don Howard of KSDO! "Our gang" that was there was Marlene Jones and Richard Conde, Leilani Rose and Ron McCleave, Mary Youngblood and Bob Turnbull, "Itchy," Shirley Kuhn, Carol Matson, Nancy Madson, Kathy Boyd, Dawn Addams, Julius Tuite, Richard Speaks, Everett Oliver, John Pfister, Wes Russnell 'n date, Bob Altman, Bruce Seratti, "Pinky," Boliver Shagnasty and others.

Truthful Gossip . . . Freshman coed Donalda Beebe was recent queen of State's annual Chariot Races held in the Aztec Bowl. . . . Helix senior class officers: President, Wayne Sweetwood; veep, Dianne Gundry; secretary, Loy Johnson; treasurer, Pat Terrell; advisors, Larry Helmuth and Martha Schutte. Loy breathes Lemon Grove air, and has done so for many moons. . . . Present officers of the Helix Min-Tidiers: President, Carrie Boyd; veep, Naomi Goyne; secretary, Cassie Wilson; treasurer, Claudette Keysey; historian, Judie Pemberton; inter-club council representatives, Rowena Noll and Jo Johnson; Naomi and Claudette received 5-by-7 scrolls from local L. G. Jr. Hi. . . . December 19 to 31 is public schools winter fun-time for several thousand students—drive carefully! . . . I actually overheard a couple of giggly feminine creatures state that they wanted to throw on their old dead clothes and have a dog-scorch in the snow. Man, that's too much!

Have a cool Yule everyone, and make it The Merriest!

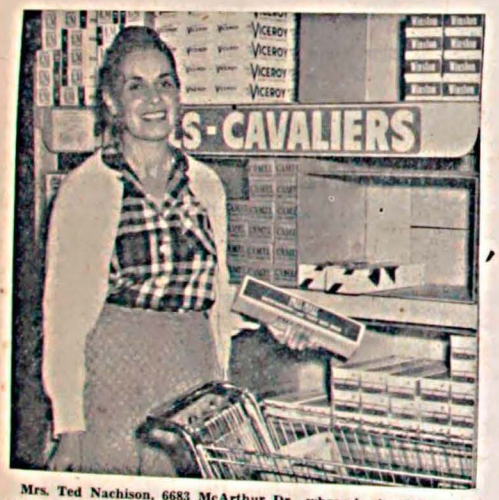
Merry Christmas And Happy New Year From MAYFAIR



Mrs. Ted Nachison, 6683 McArthur Dr., whose husband operates the Rancher's Service Station at 1193 E. Main St. in El Cajon, chooses Mayfair for convenience above all other things.

With a family of four children to feed, the couple seeks the market that offers the most quality for the least money. "Mayfair certainly answers this need," Mrs. Nachison says. The children are David, 12; Daniel, 6; Joseon, 5, and Rebecca, 2½.

Mrs. Carl Fagrsten, 7916 Paula St. in Lomita Village, has three children and her husband is a baker.

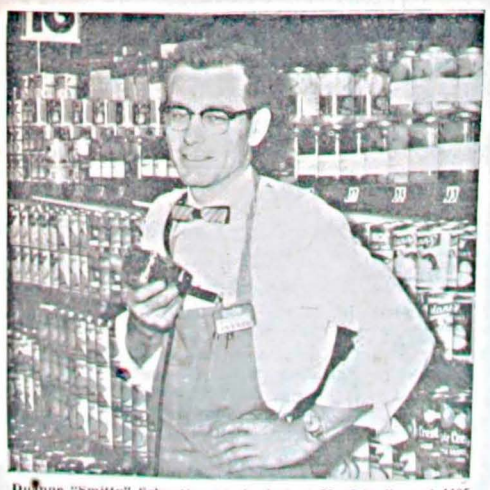
Says she, "Everything is so handy in Mayfair. My husband is a baker and we frequent not only the market generally, but the Swedish bakery too. Mayfair is certainly good for general groceries," she opined.

The couple has three children: Avie, 8 years; Sonia, 6, and Yvonne, 4.

Two happy people, Mrs. K. G. Clarke, 7823 Nichols St., and Santa Claus, enliven the pre-holiday scene at Mayfair. "We like everything Mayfair has to offer," says Mrs. Clarke.

A Cub Scout leader, she has three children. They are Teddy, 10; Gary, 9 and Judy, 18 months.

"Christmas is easy when you have a headquarters like Mayfair," said Mrs. Clarke.



Dufinne "Smitty" Schmitten, stock clerk at Mayfair, lives at 4405 Gorgia St. He and his counterparts contribute to ease of shopping at Mayfair. "We are charged with one thing above all others," says Smitty. "The customer is the most important thing we serve, and the customer is always right. That's why we can deal with the shopper with so much ease. If there is ever any question, it is always solved in favor of the patron."

A bright New Year with health and happiness to all is the sincere best wish from Mayfair personnel to the residents of Lemon Grove.

Mayfair associates have dedicated themselves to another year of good service to you with the full knowledge that the success they may have is in ratio to the degree that you are pleased.

Mayfair management assures you that their slogan will continue to be their prime objective– "More for your money at Mayfair".

Gov. Knight to Become Honorary Member of Grove Band

Governor Goodwin Knight has accepted an invitation to become an honorary member of the Lemon Grove School Band, according to a letter received by the school this week from Sacramento. Knight said, "It was a stimulating experience to me to have had an opportunity to talk with the members of your band during the Mother Goose Parade in El Cajon, and I can tell you that it will indeed be a pleasure to accept your invitation to become an honorary member of this fine unit. I hope that we shall meet again at some public affair in California. Sincerely, Goodwin J. Knight, Governor."

The invitation from the junior high unit to the governor came as a result of his interviewing band members at the recent parade.

M.V.T.P.A. Dynamite Charge Lacks Fuse

Indecision marked the Monday meeting of the Mountain Valley Taxpayers Association, Inc., at a well advertised get - together which attracted about 55 persons.

The meeting was held at the Spring Valley School auditorium and was to have been for the purpose of considering the recall of County Supervisor David Bird.

The action failed to jell when too little enthusiasm was shown for the proposition.

Roy Martin, president of the organization, said that the matter would come up again for discussion at the January meeting when answers to letters submitted to groups and organizations for their reaction could be received and analyzed.

The six charges the MVTA had made in requesting recall action were reviewed by William Miller, legal committee chairman. Bird was charged with not accepting an invitation to meet with the group during the Spring Valley sewer hassle. Other supervisors were charged with having helped finance propaganda promoting sewers in Spring Valley.

Kirkwood, State Controller, this week announced that San Diego County's share of the $5,519,886 in Highway Users Taxes available for apportionment to counties for the month ended October 31, 1954, is $233,437.43. Only Alameda and Los Angeles County received more. Fifty eight counties shared in the total.

The Highway Users Tax Fund available for apportionment totaled $23,391,720 for October and was allocated as follows: $5,519-886 to counties; $2,157,763 to State Highway Fund for Cities, and $15,714,071 to State Highway Fund for expenditure on highways. This represented an increase of $673,080 over the distribution for September.

The $23,391,720 apportioned during the month of October was derived from the following sources: Net Gasoline Tax, $20,714,523; Use (Diesel) Fuel Tax, $1,422,560; Transfer from Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund, $1,252-177; and Miscellaneous Revenue, $2,460.

While gross gasoline tax collections amounted to $22,640,657, and were lower than the previous months by $326,609, deductions for refunds amounting to $1,957-660, and administrative expenses, $29,052 were made. $60,578, representing an adjustment in relation to the tax on aviation gasoline, which is apportioned separately under law, was added, leaving a net balance for distribution of $20,714,523.

Use (Diesel) Fuel Tax collections for the month of October totaled $1,422,560, an increase of $360,926 over September.

MRS. MALLOW NAMED HONORARY CHAIRMAN OF P-TA GROUP

Mrs. Rita Mallow as approved as Honorary Life Membership Chairman for the Lemon Grove School P-TA when the executive board of that group met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harold Randall, 7848 Nichols. Mrs. Mallow's appointment fills a vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of Mrs. Chester Hobbs.

Other business discussed at the meeting included the progress of fund raising activities of the association, success of the Christmas Pageant, presented for the first time as the school's gift to the community, and a report on a recent Foothills Council panel discussion on recreation facilities throughout the Foothills area.

Mrs. V. E. Linden announced the coming spaghetti dinner, January 6, at the junior high school to be sponsored by the Music Parents Club. The next meeting of the board will be January 11 at the home of the president, Mrs. John Dail. The regular meeting of the association is "Dads' Night," Thursday, January 20.

Present Tuesday evening were Mmes. John Dail, Herman Bryant, Carl Planchon, Bert Cosby, Harold Perkins, John Mallow, Harold Randall, Vernon Linden, Stanley Purczynski, Jack Brook, George Bell, K. R. Trail, Frank Vaught, Kenneth Hall, and Peg Darroch. Also attending were Ben I. Schei, school principal, Merlin Gale, Tom Brogan, Jack Lemmer, and Miss Laura Becker.

Any Way You Look at it—It's a Lot of Letters

One letter in each 25,000 ends up in the dead letter branches throughout the United States each year, according to F. R. Faucher, Lemon Grove Postmaster. This percentage is increased six times in the month of December, and most of it is caused by carelessness on the part of the sender.

By remembering to address mail clearly, tie parcels securely, put on a return address, and use postal zone numbers for mail addressed to points in larger cities, such losses can be avoided. By placing the complete address and return on a piece of paper inside the parcel, in the event that the address portion comes off during transit, the parcel can still be delivered.

During the first 11 months of this year, Faucher said, letters and cards mailed in Lemon Grove post office, if placed end to end, would reach almost to Yuma, Arizona. This December Christmas cards and letters will add another 44 miles or enough to reach Camp Pendleton. The total for the year, on an end to end basis, is expected to reach 210 miles or about the distance to Santa Barbara, California. By weight this volume of letters and cards, is nearly 24 tons, which is enough mail to fill the present quarters up to the ceiling.

We wish to extend a thanks to the patrons of the Lemon Grove Post Office for their patronage in the past year by wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

CHRISTIAN HEALING STRESSED IN SERMON

The healing comfort and love promised by Christ Jesus to those who trust in God is keynoted in the Lesson-Sermon "Christian Science" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

"The prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" is the Golden Text from II Peter (1:21).

Grove Youth 'Grounded' for Robbery Cruising

David Braunlich, 18, 8108 Broadway, was given a five year period of probation in Superior Court last week.

Braunlich, who confessed to one holdup and admitted cruising about San Diego with two juveniles looking for victims to rob, was fined $150 and ordered to sell his auto. Judge Hewicker ruled that Braunlich would be sent to prison if he drove a car during that period.

Specifically, he was charged with having robbed a National Avenue man using a .22 caliber pistol.

TWO SCHOOL ISSUES FLOP

Two school bond issues were defeated last week in the east county when the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district failed to vote in two issues by a two thirds majority.

The majority, however, did agree that the bonds should pass. The vote was yes, 3,214 and no, 2,639.

Authorization to borrow $4,500-000 from the state suffered the same fate. Yes vote was 2,694 and no, 1,935.

An $87,000 bond issue in the Alpine Elementary School District was voted down more positively. The vote was yes, 114 and no, 346.

The failure of the issue in the Grossmont District, of which the LM-SV district is a part, is the first such rejection.

Meanwhile, observers say, the LM-SV elementary school attendance is growing at the rate of one new classroom every 20 days.

Investment Firm Expands Local Holdings

Charles Kerch, representative of Curtis Coleman Associates, announced this week that a 50 year lease had been acquired on the property which houses the Salvation Army, and the residence in the rear, at 7831 Broadway. The property is east of Sprouse Reitz.

The sum involved was undisclosed. The property was rented from A. L. Shepherd.

Kerch said that the building would be remodeled and plans presently are to fit it into the consolidated property the Coleman firm now holds.

"We thought Lemon Grove offered the best business advantages when we started buying property here two years ago, and nothing has happened to change that viewpoint," Kerch said.

"Off street parking is becoming more and more important, that is why we took the residence too."

Kerch said that general improvement of the holdings of the firm's 330 feet on Broadway would start during 1955.
